As our ancient and honorable On! I has never taken part "in conspiraties against government," since this is forbidden, its members must be true to the teachings of the craft. We everwhere throughout this land, must be the first to show by our conduct and conversation, by our example and one precepts among men, that there is vital vigor in the virtues of Free masonry. We are a united band, free and accepted by and between ourselves. Discord and cermity—the cvil passions, revenue, distrust, batted, and malice; never yet have entered the Mascule temple. If our faith is strong in the landmarks, if we have known of the doctrine that it liveth and abideth among us, in all times, in all perils, in every commotion, it strife and war, let us now demonstrate that we hold it as delivered to us by the fathers. Our Order is consecrated to unity, brotherly love charity. To enlighten mankind has been our mission since the earliest of ages. Before the days of the patriarchs to mankind to come and receive he light. That light has never yet gone out. Repecial Correspondence of the Louisville Journal. Nashviller, Oct. 11, 1865.

It is now evident that "franchise" and the "negro" are to be the great hobbies of the session. In both Houses bills have been introduced, embedying almost every imaginable expedient for setting these vital questions on some permanent basis. The radicals, who feel that their tenure of power is conditional and but temporary are stremonsly endeavoring to leave telled them the impress of a legislative system which must prove fatal to and at direct variance with the interests and long established convictions of at least four-lifths of the people of the State. Although rapidy approaching such a consumnation, this policy has not yet assumed the shape of a distinctly recognized party platform. Governor Brownlow and his emporters have certainly evinced an unequilvocal determination to extend to the disfrancised masses neither compromise nor favor, but concerning the most feasible method of strengthening their party for the inture there is among the redicals much difference of opinion. In either House you will find extremits who are not backward in expressing their approval of the Thaddeus Stevens programme, but these men are somewhat ahead of the majority of their celleagurs, whose aim is to ward off as long as possible the cell day of political estracism, knowing that the people of Tennessee will rebellious a community which was never more thoroughly absorbed in the pursuits of peace than now, it is difficult to say. Thus far, the reviving and enconraging influences of the President's reconstruction policy, so liberally cuin in the that numbers of the Nashville lanner, an article which compasses more of fiction and peetry in the short spread a half col mon than we had expected to see in any paper this side of the Northern sensation jaurnals.

The writer discleres, for the first time, the starding "historical fact" that Mr. Yancey did not die (as has been supposed by Dr. Hill and others in Montgomery) of inflammation of the kidneys, a discase from which he had been suffering for years; but his death was produced by a collision in the Confederate Senate with Mr. Sen Illil, of Georgia, who, when assailed by Y. in secret season, in a discussion of the Navy Bil, for giving him the lie, breaking his back, from which he drooped away and died, an utterly disheauteurd and disappointed man.

The man who got up that story, we modestly suggest, would be a model reporter for the New York Herald, the Harpers, or the Elinstrated News. His talents will be wasted on the "desentair" of this miscrable Southern land.

Mr. Yancey and Mr. Hill did have a difficult in the Confederate Senate, not, however, upon a discussion of the Navy hill, but of the Supreme Court bill. Mr. Y. had spoken; Mr. If in reply reviewed Mr. Y. arcord in a style which was regarded as offensive by Senators. Mr. Y. arase, when Mr. H had taken his seat, and remarked that as other Senatons desired to speak on the question, he would not consame the time of the Fenate then, but that at a proper time he would endeavor to do justice both to the Senator from Georgia, in regard to what he was pleased to term like antoblograph, were false, and he knew them to be false when he made them.

Mr. Hill responded quickly from his seat that throw the falsehood bace in his face. Upon motion, the Senate went into secret session. Mr. Yancey, or any one else, threw a heavy class linkstand, which struck Mr. Y. on his side tended.

A committee was afterward reconcilente parties. Mr Yancey was then appealed to to adjust the nature, but relievated in him as to the effect such a rupture would have up of both the leading and the led spirits of Captain Johnson, who was recently sent by Seneral Bristin to Morgan county to arrest Williams the guerrilla, reports that he found he utmost terror prevairing among the inhabants, who had suffered, or were apprehensive I suffering, from the lawless bands of rebel abbers which inject the whole country. In one unity he found, within a distance of thirm miles, twenty farm-houses, only one of hich was inhabited, the balance having been serted by their occupants from fear of them. the two sections, the bitter tone of many islatures and conventions and meetings and sand other things, gave deep and fearful warning of coming calamity. Clay and Webster n miles, twenty infractioness, only one or ich was inhabited, the balance having been erted by their occupants from fear of these reference villains. In the counties of Bith I Wolfe, a man named Greenwade is leader just such a gang as that of Williams, and is fines in his threats of vengeance and pillage dies any one who dares to breathe the accedenance of "Union." Captain Johnson's ty was twice fired upon from the underbrush I rocks by these cowardly traitors, but his ty sentained no injury.

MARAUDERS IN KENTUCKY —It appears from (Kv.) Gazette of last Tuesday the 10th instan that there are portions of this State that are yet verran by prowling hordes of ecoundrels wi are terrifying the peaceful inhabitants and ally driving them from their homes:

Those who are so loudly rejicing over the sepective withdrawal of the Federal troops in Kentucky, should think on these facts, of not be so hasty in concluding that they il certainly dwell in peace and safety when protected by Federal bayonsts. We have sat faith in their potency in such localities as a above mentioned, and hore they will be remed. Both Williams and Groenwade, we are formed, "declare that they are Confederate ormed, "declare that they are Confederate ormed, "declare that they are Confederate or the section of the section and all the other wise statesmen of the time onl pose that there was an enlightened man in the nation who did not feel that the apprehen sion was well founded. tained. Both Williams and erronwace, we are informed, 'declare that they are Confederate soldier—that they have never surrendered— and they intend to carry on this warfare until they are killed or taken." We trust they will not be "killed or taken." Let them be taken and killed.

if there are nincteen farm houses within the distance of thirteen miles which have been desertderous villains who are roaming at large over the country to rob and devastate, there ought something to be done to cut short their career with a vigor and a rigor equal to the demands of the occasion. Such a state of affairs is disgraceful in the extreme.

what is above stated in this and other States, we suggested several months ago the propriety and necessity of a mounted patrol in the retection to the inhabitants. Either this or a There are outlaws amenable to no code but that of force, and it is manifestly for the interests of all good men that such a force should be provided and in readiness at the points where it is needed at all times to afford that protection which the people want and which they must own dwellings or carry on the ordinary busientitled to full protection in his home, and should have it if it take the whole power of the ponwealth to make it effective

It would be better to submit to almost any nount of texation rather than to allow the industry of the State to be paralyzed by the depredations of banditti. A standing army in time of reace is referable to that. If the Federal military authorities intend to rant the people of this Siste adequate protection, they cught to do it and at once. If the force at their command is not sufficient it should be increased. If, on the contrary, they intend to commit the work to the State Gov then that fact should be distinctly made known without delay, in order that the necessary s'eps may forthwith be taken to secure the object in view. We don't want to be called upon again Ty soon to chronicle so disgraceful and infamous a fact as is alleged by the Danville e county in Kentucky are now, October, 1865. tenantless, in consequence of the robbing and ndering work of roaming highwaymen. We don't pretend to say at whose door the fault for evidently it lies at somebody's door. A remedy, prompt and sure, is demanded alike by justice d the interests of the community; and in their name we call for it. If there are ninethe cut-throate that wander at will over it, how the ineligible candidates are withdrawing. The them foresken in one county through fear of my farms and houses are there in a similar probability now is that Virginia will elect no ondition in the whole State? It cannot be that the villains are all in one county. We reree power. We believe the War Dap if proper representations be made, would decide as to its disposition and intention in the premices without delay, and then the State authorities would know how to act. We believe the best well as the cheapest way to grapple with these lawlees bands of thleving jayhawkers is such a force-whether under State or Federal authority it matters little-properly distributed one on the part of the pinnderers impossible. That would break them up at once and annihilate them. A feeling of confidence would take the place of that of danger and appertainty which would be most grateful and beneficial to the recopie. The villains who have committed murder we would hang, and the rost send to

While we write, the intelligence from the lections in Ohio and Pennsylvania, held Tueday, is quite meager. In Ohio it appears that the popular vote is considerably smaller than in the elections of 1863 4. Thus far the returns indicate a large Democratic gain. In 1863, Valandigham was defeated for Governor by 61,000 on the home vote and 40,000 on the soldiers' vote. the total majority against him being 101,000 Last year, Lincoln and Johnson carried the State by nearly 60,000 on the total vote. The calculations now made in Cincinnati and Columbus, based upon returns already received. give the State to General Cox by a majority of 20,000 votes.

The Democratic and Union platforms in Ohio alike indorse the administration of President Johnson, and we attribute the increased Demopapers, such as the Cincinnati Gazette, which induced thousands who voted for President Lincoln in 1864 to support the Democratic

NEGRO REAL ESTATE BROKER,-William Baker, a free man of color, was presented in the Police Court yesterday for feloniously obtaining fifteen dollars from Daniel Payne, who said with characteristic elegance, that he had been free 'eber since de Gnbment sot him free.' er was held in the sum of three hundred dollars to answer a felony. The evidence repesented that Baker had offered to rent the plaintiff somebody else's house and lot, which e falsely averred belonged to him. Payne, being rather unsophisticated, agreed to rent the property, and paid over to Baker fifteen dollars, as required. When possession of the house was demanded, it was found that Baker vas not at all "sponshal," as Payne termed it. The defendant had previously "taken in" other parties in the same way, and was doing a incra

The General Convention of the Episcon Church met in Philadelphia on the 4th instant. We are gratified to see that our fellow-citizen Rev. James Craik, D D, was elected President the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies. The Rev. J. H. Hopkins, of Vermont, being the enior Bishop, presides over that body. Both houses have passed resolutions heartily welcoming the delegates from the Southern dio ceses, and also confirming all the ecclestical acts of the Church of the late Con federate States. There is, therefore, no longer Epicopal Church in the whole country; and ligious body, except the Roman Catholic, that

In the disgraceful row which occurred n Saturday night between a party of ne grocs, one Johnson was seriously shot in the reast by Daniel Mason, a slave in the employ of Mr. N. W. Hughes. The case was before judge Harbeson yesterday morning, and Mason was adjudged guiltless in the eye of the law, and so discharged. With all becoming defer ence, we candidly think the entire party should have been indicted for disorderly conduct, at least. The testimony showed the assemblage of the negroes to have been lawless. The were gaming for money, and the shooting of a game of cards. We hope such cases will not be dealt with quite so lightly hereafter.
